

LANCASHIRE'S 125 CLUB

We were all thrilled by the recent World Cup and Six Nations action, but have you thought about where our England players started? It's playing for teams in rugby clubs and counties like ours. Ben Kay, Iain Balshaw, Steve Borthwick and Richard Wigglesworth are just four names from the Six Nations matches who came through the Lancashire County RFU pathway. Names like 'Jack Forster' will follow. Even the daffodil wearing Shaun Edwards started life in a Lancashire shirt, a dual code international at Under 16s.

Lancashire County RFU run the biggest, the most ambitious and we hope the best youth programme in the country. We organise schools and club competitions and festivals from Years 7 to 13, both regionally and countywide. We provide structured Development Groups and Schools of Rugby from Under 13 to 16 and organise regional and county teams so that players can develop and refine their skills. All these activities rely on the tremendous goodwill of our volunteers and supporters, but there are some things that only money can buy. All this activity costs more than £40,000 per year.

Why not be part of this and support your son or daughter and Lancashire Youth Rugby. Turning up, watching and cheering us on is vital to the success of Lancashire youth rugby; why not also support us by joining the 125 Club? This is a monthly draw, named in honour of our recent 125th Anniversary. The minimum subscription of one ticket is only £2 per month, but applications for 5 or 10 numbers will be very welcome. All the money goes to Lancashire County RFU to support the ongoing work in the county. So think of the next World Cup and the one after, be part of them and of Lancashire.
