

Accessing the Rugby First System

In order to access the Rugby First system, in the first instance you must have a username and password. If you don't have a username and password, please contact RugbyFirst Support on 0208 831 6651 or rugbyfirstsupport@therfu.com

Once you have a username and password, you must open your internet browser and insert the following link into the address bar.

<http://clubs.rfu.com/clubs/portals/webmasters/>

The Rugby First home page provides you with a number of functions including training user guides and useful contact numbers should you require additional help.

Once you have reached the Rugby First home page, you will be required to input your username and password; this will enable you to access certain functions, not accessible to the general public. Allowing you to update, amend and manage your clubs website

Welcome to RugbyFirst

Due to regulatory OFCOM changes, the RugbyFirst helpdesk telephone number has changed with immediate effect to 0208 831 6651.

RugbyFirst is a game-wide internet-based tool to help run rugby at all levels, with the details of more than one million coaches, referees, players and volunteers held on a single system.

This site is here to provide help, support and a user forum to discuss all your RugbyFirst issues. As well as a place to raise issues and questions it is here we will post any announcements regarding the RugbyFirst system and support. Access to the Forum is gained by logging into the site and clicking on the menu item to the left and is open to any club members.

Input your username and password in the area outlined above and select login.

You will also notice that a number of new functions are now available to you in terms of what you can manage and do on the system. Dependant on the role you have been assigned, this will correspond to the admin rights you have on the system. A player will be able to view and amend significantly less than an individual assigned with webmaster rights.

The role you are assigned will dictate the amount of functionality available to you and what you can and can't do on the system.

To illustrate what functionality is available to which roles please see the User Rights guide on the "Accessing the system page".
